

Changes Made to the Website

General Changes

The layout of the site was changed from being contained in a relatively small container to taking up the whole webpage, opening up the website. The text is bigger to make it more legible. The banner at the top does not contain a texture that would make the type on it less legible. Clutter was removed to make the site more streamlined and modern. The number of pages were reduced because some of the pages in the original were redundant or lacked relevant information. The text of the banner was picked to try to match the font of the original's logo. The general layout and information were retained from the original.

Mercy.html

Information was put into two easier to read columns.

Aboutus.html

Information was centered to be more noticeable. Headings were made larger to stand out more from paragraph text.

Programs.html

Information was centered to be more noticeable. Headings were made different sizes to show their relation to one another without separating them.

Involved.html

Information was put into two easier to read columns.

Contact.html

Information was centered to be more noticeable. Important information was put in bold to show that it was important.
